MATHEMATICS N3 NEW SYLLABUS - macmillan.co.za

N3 has been a great first step for me. I've changed industries into the tech field - and I feel as if I've gotten a lot of exposure to major tech companies and their products. Hopefully one day I can see myself moving to a large firm like Microsoft, but for now I am very happy with the programs I am working.

This tutorial was made solely for the purpose of education and it was designed for students taking Applied Math 0330. It is primarily for students who have very little experience or have never used Mathematica and programming before and would like to learn more of the basics for this computer algebra system. As a friendly reminder, don't forget to clear variables in use and/or the kernel.
