AGRICULTURE IN CHINA: CHALLENGES ... - Facts and Details

Production inefficiencies are caused by limited autonomy and human-robot interactions, leading to long cycle times and delays, low detection rates (Zhao et al., 2016) and inability to perform agricultural tasks in unstructured environments. However, although limited in number, some robotics applications are now commercially available.

Food security is a measure of the availability of food and individuals' accessibility to it, where accessibility includes affordability. There is evidence of food security being a concern over 10,000 years ago, with central authorities in ancient China and ancient Egypt being known to release food from storage in times of famine. At the 1974 World Food Conference the term "food security" was ...
